Caution to the Public,

DR. LEE'S (WINDHAM)

BILIOUS PILLS,

OR

FAMILY PHYSIC.

THE above named pills, are the true and original patent Lee's Pills, and are the first Pills for which a patent was ever granted in America.

The universal esteem in which these Pills have been held for many years, as a mild, safe, and efficacious Family Medicine, and the great and increasing demand for them, in most parts of the U. States and West Indies, has induced several wicked and unprincipled dealers in medicines, (particularly in Philadelphia) to make and sell Pills, which they style Lee's Windham Bilious Pills; making use of a copy of his bill of directions, &c. and offering the same for sale, as the genuine Lee's Pills, whereas the true and original Lee's Pills were never prepared in any place except in Windham, (Con.) nor by any persons except the proprietors of the patent. To guard against deceptions of this kind, the public are requested to observe, that each box of the true Lee's Pills, is enclosed in an elegant stereotype label, with these words on the sides thereof; Lee's genuine Windham Bilious Pills: and on the end of the label, the words, Samuel Lee, Patentee, &c I Thompson, agent, joint proprietor, &c. and should any be offered for sale without said label on them, the purchaser may be assured that they are counterfeit and not the genuine Lee's Pills. To those who are in the habit of using the genuine pills, the fraud is easily discovered by their effects, and those who may wish to make use of them may guard against counterfeits and imposters, and always be sure of the genuine pills, by observing that they purchase none unless they are enclosed in the label aforesaid.

The proprietors have for several years past expended large sums, in order to break down counterfeiters and dishonest dealers, but are yet convinced that there are some, who not only disregard the laws and the rights of others, but also the injuries they do to the community, by selling their own dangerous compositions, for the genuine Lee's Pills, whenever they think they can do it without being detected & brought to justice. For the purpose of putting a stop to such nefarious traffic, the proprietors have been at very great expence in procuring the stereotype label, and the public may rest assured, that no genuine pills, will be sold without the label being around each box; and as a further inducement to the public to be on their guard against the designs of those dealers in medicines, who keep such counterfeit pills in their shops. The name, the person or persons who shall make & sell such counterfeit pills and as proper steps have been taken to discover those persons who sell such counterfeit pills, and on whom suspicion already rests, it is hoped that their names will soon be before the public, as dealers in counterfeit medicines, and their persons before the district court of the U. States, to answer for an infringement of the patent.

The approbation of medical gentlemen and the opinion of many thousands of respectable persons who have experienced the good effect of the genuine Lee's Pills, as a mild, safe and efficacious purgative, for removing jaundice, Headach, indigestion, costiveness, cholic, autumnal fevers, and all Bilious complaints, are it is presumed, a sufficient recommendation to those who may wish to make use of them in families or elsewhere

The genuine Lee's Pills, are sold by the most of those druggists in the U. States who choose to keep good articles of medicine in preference to base ones A deposit of the genuine pills, will always be kept at the store of Thatcher and Thompson, N. W. corner of Market and Second street; by the proprietors of the patent, where druggists and others, may always be certain of obtaining the true pills, on the same terms as of the patentee.

J. THOMPSON,
Agent to the Patentee.

THE AMERICAN INDIANS.

At a period when so much is done for the destitute, we can hardly fail to remember the aborigines of our country, as among the most proper objects of our benevolent attention. It will no doubt afford satisfaction to all who feel an interest in their welfare, to learn, that the work of introducing civilization and Christianity among them, is becoming an object of more prominence than heretofore, in the plans and operations of the charitable societies in this country. The American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, have recently made an establishment for this purpose, in the Cherokee Nation of Indians, in the south west of the United States, which they hope to be able to conduct upon efficient principles, and upon a liberal scale. The design has been approved by the government of the United States, and important aid granted in support of it. At the commencement of the undertaking, however, a very considerable expence must be incurred, independent of the aid to be furnished by the government. To enable them to meet this expence, the prudential committee of the board have thought proper to appoint an agent to visit the considerable places in the community, and solicit the charitable support of the benevolent.—To this work they have appointed the Rev. E. CORNELIUS, who has already visited several distinguished places, with good success. N. Y. Gaz.

The Indians in the state of New York have suffered severely during the last winter, in consequence of the failure of the last year's crop of Indian Corn—their principal dependence for subsistence. One tribe of 7000 persons who usually raise 7,000 or 8,000 bushels of corn in a season, raised last year not more than 50 bushels, dried in the ordinary way. By boiling the unripe corn, and drying it by the fire, they secured something more. The several tribes receive annuities from the State or United States, but they amount to no more than two or three dollars per man, and are entirely insufficient for procuring them a subsistence. They have therefore been dependent on the scanty charity of a few Missionaries and others, for the means of preserving their lives through the winter. The numbers of the six nations now in New York, are stated as follows.

ST. DOMINGO.

We learn from a gentleman passenger in the schooner Leopard, 15 days from St. Domingo, that on the 15th of April, a French frigate and sloop of war, appeared off the harbor of Cape Henry. They came close under fort Picolette, and steered to the leeward, evidently bound to Port-au-Prince. The inhabitants of the Cape entertained no fear of the result, and went about their ordinary business as usual.—Port-au-Prince, it will be remembered, is under the jurisdiction of general Petion. Whether the appearance of this armed force in those parts indicates some further overtures on the part of the French government, to general Petion, time will discover. It appears from documents published some time since, that it was the policy of the French court to set Petion and Christophe at variance, for the purpose of profiting by the result. If Petion could be induced to commence active hostilities, the French might remain neuter, or join with the strongest party, and the reduction of the island of St. Domingo might be the consequence of such an event. Our informant states that nothing of this kind is to be apprehended; that the rival chiefs Petion and Christophe, hostile as they are rence the idea of a colonial attachment to France: that if such a measure was contemplated either by one, or both of these rival chieftains, their lives would pay the penalty of such rashness; a return to French subjugation is an idea of which the inhabitants of St. Domingo seem to entertain no sort of apprehension. He states that the rival chiefs, Petion and Christophe, have not, as has been reported, been engaged in active hostilities—the parties with the most cordial hate to each other, remain perfectly quiet as if mutually afraid of the resumption of hostilities, maintain a sort of growling acquiescence. The court of his ebony majesty, the emperor Christophe, has all the dignity of form. Not even the governor can grant a passport to visit his majesty at his royal residence at Sans Souci. The applicant for this interview must wait the going and the return of the courier, who announces to him the intelligence whether it is his imperial majesty's sovereign will and pleasure, to gratify him with a sight of his woolly head.

It is expected by some that this emperor, notwithstanding his ebony face, has arrived at that degree of dignity, as will warrant our government in appointing a consul at least. This question must be ultimately left to the court of France; if his majesty king Louis, who is now a sovereign in a go-cart, should imagine that this acknowledgment interferes with the rights of his crown, it might not be proper either to receive or to appoint a minister. However, one thing seems clear, that if Bonaparte in the height of his power, was incapable of reducing this colony to obedience, there is very little probability that Louis, single handed, will be able to carry this point into execution. The crown of the French monarch is now preserved on his head by the united hands of all the allied monarchs. Balt. Tel.

CHINA TRADE.

A late London Courier, in speaking of the trade with India, says, "that by the latest accounts from Canton, received by an American ship, arrived at Dover, there were when the vessel sailed no less than forty two ships, chiefly Americans and Swedes, loading with Teas, for Europe! Nominally these vessels are bound to Continental Ports, but their cargoes are destined for Great Britian and Ireland! How can this be? By smuggling in the Channel, and by running the rest of their cargoes from the Continental ports. All of these cargoes are intended for the British market, and even much English capital is embarked in these speculations."

At the anniversary dinner of the Marine Society, given in London on the 17th of last month, the duke of Clarence, among other observations, observed, that when he commanded a 28 gun frigate on the Cork station, he landed in that city. The guard of honor of the 58th regiment, by which he was received, was commanded by a lieutenant. That lieutenant was the present duke of Wellington, and strange to tell, the first time his royal highness met him afterwards was at a dinner with the queen, when he had become a knight of the garter a duke and the greatest general of of his age. This circumstance his royal highness mentioned, to show, that in that country merit would carry individuals to the highest stations; and, in the course of his own professional services, he had known many other proofs of the same truth.

PARIS, April 16.

The state of the public mind in Sweden, is far from being tranquil. The friends of the ancient royal family, though silent are not extinct; and it is expected the death of the king, now old and feeble, will be the signal for a second attempt to place the ex-prince royal, Gustavus, on the throne of his ancestors. It is well known, that the aunt of this prince, the empress of Russia, has taken a deep interest in his fortunes; and though she does not obtrude herself into the affairs of State on ordinary occasions, it is expected when her nephew shall have arrived at the age, when the customs of Europe permit the wielding of the sceptre, that she will make powerful and effectual efforts to induce her husband to place one in his hand. He is a prince well reported, and will be 18 in November next. The late insurrection at Stockholm, was no doubt agitated by the adherents of the old monarchy, to feel the pulse of the populace. The plot is not ripe for explosion. The courage of the adopted prince royal (Bernadotte) will avail him much in any exigency; but there are numerous indications that he, like his old master, must yield to the force of circumstances, and pass away with every thing else connected with the abominations of the French revolution.

LONDON, April 4.

Poor Human Nature!—At a late Court of Assizes, in England, the Rev. Robert Woodward, and two of his daughters, Sarah and Susanna, were convicted of a conspiracy to charge one James Harris with having committed a rape on the person of Susanna Woodward, and were immediately sentenced, the man to 2 years, and his daughters to one year imprisonment in the common jail of Bedfordshire.

On passing sentence, Mr. Baron Graham, addressing the convict, said—

"That it was impossible to imagine a case more melancholy than that which was now before him. A clergyman of the Church of England, a character which stood so high in this country, convicted, on the clear and most satisfactory evidence, of the most abominable and atrocious conspiracy—a crime which became still more dreadful from his having induced his two unfortunate daughters to follow him in his career, and to bear a part in his foul load of infamy. He confessed he knew not how to do justice. Compassion for the infirmities of human nature might induce him to alleviate the severity of punishment; but in this case, all compassion was swallowed up in the contemplation of the scene before him—a scene which presented to his view a man, who, in spite of the benefits of education, and the dictates of religion, had sunk to the last degree of human crime."

The defendants were greatly affected. Mr. W. is about 50 years of age, and the oldest female about 25. This conviction is one of thousands which demonstrate, that no man, however respectable and revered, can violate the laws of England with impunity.

The Painter and the Porter.—The following story is related in a late Paris paper:—A painter who wished to represent the tragical end of Milo, of Croton, met in the street a porter of a most athletic form. He admired his colossal figure and vigorous muscles, and offered to him a pound sterling if he would stand to him as a model. It was only necessary to tie his hands, and confine them within an iron ring, in order to represent as well as possible the trunk of the tree in which Milo's hands were imprisoned when he was devoured by wild beasts. The porter readily consented to the painter's proposal; he stript himself and suffered his hands to be bound. Now, (said the artist) imagine that a lion is darting upon you and make every effort which you would do in such a case to escape his fury. The model threw himself into the utmost agitation; but he made too many grimaces; there was nothing natural in his frightful contortions. The painter gave him further direction but still he failed of producing the desired effect. At length he thought of the following singular method. He let loose a vigorous mastiff, which was kept in the yard of the house, and desired him to seize the unfortunate captive. This excited both gesticulation and utterance. The efforts of the porter thus became natural and the fury of the animal increased in proportion as his struggles were violent. The painter, in a fit of transport, seized his pencils. The patient, however, who had been bitten and torn by the dog, uttered violent cries. Excellent! bravo! exclaimed the artist. Continue: O, that's admirable! Finally, the sitting, or rather the torture, being at an end, the artist offered the promised salary: but the model replied that he had agreed to accept of a pound sterling for being painted, and not for being bitten: he demanded a large indemnity. The affair has been brought before the tribunals.

A gentleman of the name of Marble was married to Miss Moss, in defiance of the proverb—"A rolling stone will never gather moss."

It was told to Lord Chesterfield, that Mrs. W. a termagant and scold, was married to a gamester. His lordship said, that cards and brimstone made the best matches.

PITTSBURGH.

FRIDAY, MAY 30, 1817.

"DIED—At his residence near Connellsville, the 20th inst. after a lingering illness, JAMES L. GIBSON.

To those who have known this excellent young man panegyric can add nothing to the estimation in which they held his many virtues,—They saw him in the performance of all the relative duties of society, correct and exemplary—a dutiful son, an affectionate brother, a generous and confiding friend, a social companion—as ready to relieve and condole with the distressed as to rejoice with the prosperous; he was revered and beloved by all. His death has produced a chasm in the best feelings of his friends and relatives that the tardy hand of time only can close.

—On Monday morning, the 26th inst. at Kerr's Hotel in this city, Mr. ROBERT PRICE, merchant, of Bardstown, (Ky.)

The steam boat Constitution (late Oliver Evans) burst her boiler between Natchez and New Orleans, and every soul in the cabin perished. This misfortune took place three miles above St. Francisville, in a race between the Washington and Constitution. The former passed St. Francisville three hours less than five days from Louisville. Some of the unfortunate passengers lived 20 hours—the following are the names of the dead:—

Wm. Yarnell, of Virgina.
E. Frazier, Gibsonport.
Thomas Brown, Scotland.
Jos. D. Wilson, Maryland.
W. M'Farland, Washington county Ky.
James Carpenter.
Alexd. Philpot, near Richmond, Va.
Wm. Steele, Warrenton, M. T.
Peter Hurbert, N. Orleans & Baltimore.
Wm. Larkin, Silversmith, Natchez.
Robert Roberston aged about 18 years.

Lex. Rep.

The brig Gipsey, arrived at Boston, on the 19th instant, having on board Antonio Gonzaloo de Cruis as Minister from the new government of Pernambuco to the United States. A Boston paper states, "by this gentleman we learn that the country was in a state of perfect tranquility, and that the towns immediately dependent on Pernambuco, as well as the interior, so far as information has been obtained, acknowledged the new government."

A company of young men is forming in New York, with the purpose of proceeding to some part of South America, there to form a settlement. The share to be advanced by each adventurer, for the purchase of a vessel, &c. is one hundred dollars.

The Supreme Congress of the Mexican republic, have voted to Henry Clay, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, their thanks for the disinterested, manly, and generous sentiments he expressed on the floor of the house, for the welfare of that infant republic.—Geo. Mes.

"The Brazilian Minister," says the editor of the Boston Centinel, "who has arrived here, has received very respectful attentions. He is a gentleman of intelligence, urbanity and firmness. If, however, we can form a judgment of his reception at Washington, from an article in the National Intelligencer, it will be a cool one." We think with the Boston editor, that the reception will be a cool one, or rather that the Brazilian will not be received in the character of Minister, as the independence of the government which he proposes to represent has not yet been recognized by our government, and good policy may require some delay in making that recognition. Fed. Gaz.

Pittsfield, Mass. April 30.

The baneful spirit of litigation, which has been created in this county, must be a source of deep regret to every reflecting mind.

At the last spring term of the Circuit Court of Common Pleas, at Lenox, there were between 6 and 700 suits entered; and on the 1st of September there were about 800 making a total of Fifteen Hundred Suits, in the Circuit Court of Common Pleas, in one year!

IMPORTANT DECISION.

On Monday the 19th inst. (May) the Supreme Court of this state convened at Lancaster, and delivered their opinions in the Mima case which was argued before them at the special session at that place in March last, on the writ of error taken to the Common Pleas of Lancaster county, in an action of trespass, in which Robert W. Leiper was plaintiff, and General John Hubley and other members of a court martial, Daniel Moore, Esq. deputy Marshal, and Major Sample, the brigade inspector, defendants.

The opinions were severally delivered by their Honors, Chief Justice Tilghman and Judge Gibson, (his Honor Judge Duncan gave no opinion, having been concerned as counsel in the cause) are very able and do honor to the Judges.

The opinion of Judge Franklin has been reversed and the proceedings of the Court Martial and of the Deputy Marshal under them supported throughout.

It is with pleasure we inform the public that an able report of the above cause is now in the press, in pamphlet form, and the publication will be completed in a few days.

The report embraces the trial and opinion in the Court of Common Pleas, as well as the arguments of Counsel and opinions of the Supreme Court on the writ of error.

Centinel.

We understand, says the Georgetown Messenger of May 9, that a ship load of Stocking Looms, and Swiss Weavers, arrived in Washington a few days since, where they propose to form an establishment which has for its object the manufacturing of Cotton and woolen Hosiery, knit pantaloons; of petticoats, under waistcoats and Berlin lace, and tulle for ladies dresses.

Tea Plant.—The Tea Plant, we are informed, has been naturalized at Rio Janeiro, under the care of a number of Chinese brought to that country by the Portuguese government, and promises to be productive—The Tea Plant could be cultivated in some parts of the United States, but our population is yet too thin, and wages too high—In China, where the population is immense, as much labor will be performed by a man for two, as in America for 100 cents.

Astracan Rye.—A new species of Rye, brought from Astracan, is now eagerly cultivated in Germany—This grain is described as far surpassing every other species in size, beauty and productiveness—an account published of it, speaks of it with almost poetical enthusiasm, calling it "the magnificent golden grain, the delight of all who behold it, the favorite of Ceres, &c."

We observe by distant newspapers, that the opinion prevails, that Connecticut is democratized.—This is very far from the truth. The precise situation of our state officers is this: Oliver Wolcott is Governor. He could never have been elected without the assistance of many federalists. Even the democrats do not pretend that he is a democrat.—Jonathan Ingersoll is Lieutenant Governor, and is altogether a federalist. Our members of Congress are all federalists. Our Council are all federalists, and every other state officer excepting the representatives, is a federalist. It is said that democracy has a majority in the House of Representatives. This is not true. The number of genuine federalists in the house is equal, save one, to the democrats, tolerationists and trimmers all taken together. It is true that the democrats calculate to melt down all these characters, into a mass of democracy, and perhaps if they could be all continued in office they might effect their purpose. But it should be recollected that the disguise under which some have been elected, will soon be torn away, and their hopes of successful hypocrisy forever disappointed.

Con. Mirror.

From the Boston Centinel.

Austria, like many other parts of Europe, has been inundated with a depreciated paper money. It has been funded at a low rate, and on the 30th January, ten millions of it were burnt in the public square.

Almost every Potentate in Europe has acceded to the "Holy Alliance" first proposed by the Emperor ALEXANDER. But stronger ties than paper treaties have recently been contracted, and Cupid and Hymen have been as successful negociators as METTERNICH and CASTLEREAGH. To the numerous marriage alliances which have been announced within these three years, it is now added, that another of the British Princes (the Duke of Kent) is to espouse the Princess Maria Louisa Victoire of Saxe Cobourg, Princess Dowager of Linanges.

Royal Longevity.—There are now living sixteen sovereigns in Europe, who are of or above three score years of age! The British King is the oldest, having almost completed his 79th year. The Duke of Anhault Dessau is 77 years old. The Pope 75—The Elector of Hesse 74—HENRY XII of Reuss 70; the King of Sweden 69; the Langrave of Hesse, Homburg 69; the King of Saxony, 67; the King of the two Sicilies 66; the King of Sardinia 66; the King of France 62; the King of Bavaria 61; the Grand Duke of Oldenburg 61; the Grand Duke of Mecklenburg Scherwin 60; the Grand Duke of Hesse 60; and the Grand Duke of Saxe Weimar 60.

It may amuse the readers to learn the ages of the other Potentates of the old world:—

The King of Portugal is 50 years of age; the Emperor of Austria 49; the King of Denmark 49; the King of Prussia 47; the King of the Netherlands 45; the Emperor of Russia 40; the King of Wurtemburg 36; the King of Spain 33; the Sultan Mahmoud 32; the Duke of Saxe Cobourg 31; and the Duchess of Parma (late Empress of France) 26. The latter has renounced her title of Empress—A Proclamation before us begins:—We, MARIA LOUISA, Imperial Princess and Archduchess of Austria, by the grace of God, Duchess of Parma, Placentia, Guastella," &c. &c.

STEAM BOAT WASHINGTON.

This steam boat we understand arrived at Natchez in four and-a-half days from Louisville. In one and-a-half days more, she no doubt reached Orleans. This experiment shews the great utility of steam navigation in our waters—it speaks volumes in favour of western commerce. Less than a week from Kentucky to New Orleans! Passengers after hearing Divine worship one Sabbath in Kentucky, may on the next attend mass in Louisiana; and what would have been incredible, even among Christians before the American revolution, they enjoy the privilege of changing their religion and worshipping the Almighty in the way they prefer, as often as they please in the course of one week, under the same government.

Lex. Rep.

The Camel.—In Riley's Narrative of his adventures among the Arabs, he states, that the Camel has been known to subsist in the desert for 20 or 30 days without water, and without any other food than Charcoal, which the Arabs carry with them for culinary purposes. The editors of the Southern Patriot say that the principle of carbon is highly nutritive.

Sunday School Anecdote.—The Boston Evening Gazette of Saturday, states that, "in Holland, not long since, in a Sunday School, so numerous were the children of a larger growth" that a sufficient number of SPECTACLES could not be obtained to supply the demands of the scholars.
